Reference concerning Frederik Gram Kortegaard

Frederik has been employed at Findwise as student assistant between January 2019 and January 2020. Frederik has proven to be a talented and creative person who has great insight in the field of Python based machine learning and especially within natural language processing. Throughout the time Frederik has been employed at Findwise, he has been an invaluable part of the team as he always provides creative solutions to the problems at hand.

At Findwise Frederik has mainly been given tasks to explore possible solutions within the field of Natural Language Processing adaption to Danish, as our customers based in Denmark will benefit greatly from a consistent entity extraction model with knowledge of the Danish language.

Given his young age and lack of formal education, he has still a lot to learn to become a proficient developer, but he has proven to learn and adapt in a fast pace.

Socially Frederik fits perfectly into our team of young developers and he will be missed as part of our team. As part of his personal development he has been part of projects, where he has been onsite at selected customers. A challenge, that he mastered just as well as our team of junior consultants.

On behalf of the Findwise team in Copenhagen, I with Frederik all the best in his future hires.

Best Regards
